MONEY MATTERS

It is said that money meant little to Albert Einstein. When he first joined the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study, the salary he requested was so low that officials had to double it to preserve the Institute’s standards. It is reported he once used a $1500.00 check from the Rockefeller Foundation as a bookmark, then lost the book. The Foundation’s records were out of kilter for months. When they finally sent a duplicate check, Einstein wrote back, “What’s this for?”

Someone has written: “Dug from the mountain side, and washed in the glen. Servant am I, or master of men. Steal me, I curse you. Earn me, I bless you. Grasp me, and horde me, a friend shall possess you. Lie for me. Die for me. Covet me. Take me. Angel and devil, I am what you make me.” The Bible doesn’t say that money is evil, but it does say that the “love of money” is the root of all evil (1 Timothy 6:10).

The more prosperous we are, the greater the temptation. The apostle Paul warned: “But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition" (1 Timothy 6:10). He further advised Timothy: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who gives us richly all things to enjoy" (1 Timothy 6:17).

Jesus had much to say about the dangers of wealth and materialism (Matthew 6:19-24; Luke 12:13-21). He asked: "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" (Matthew 16:26). Wealth is not something to be hoarded. It is to be shared.

We live in one of the wealthiest countries in the world. The poorest among us fare far better than most of the world's population. We are rich. May God help us to use these blessings in ways that benefit others, and bring honor to Him.

RAMBLINGS

--By Roger

God willing, Colton Eddy will have our devotional this Wednesday evening, and Darrell Hague is scheduled for Wednesday evening November 16th.

Our thanks to our young men for leading our worship last Sunday evening. Special thanks to Brad Pierce for his excellent message.

Our annual Thanksgiving Dinner is rapidly approaching. It will follow our morning assembly on the 20th. Meat and rolls will be provided, but there is a signup sheet on the board in the foyer for soft drinks, side dishes and desserts. If you have any questions, please see Tim or Kathi Gerber.

I am sure you were happy to hear the announcement that Mason Hall was baptized last Sunday. If you have not congratulated him yet, be sure to do so the next time you see him.

Election day is Tuesday. I have heard many express concerns over the choices before us this election. What should a Christian do? For whom should one vote? It is certainly not my place, nor is it my desire to tell others how to vote. In my judgment, as Christians we are always confronted with the choice of voting for the lesser of two evils. All candidates are flawed, and in this election that should be abundantly apparent to all of us.

I have no idea who will win, but I am absolutely confident that whatever the outcome, God will still rule the Universe. As Daniel told King Nebuchadnezzar, "...the Most High rules the kingdom of men and gives it to whom he will and sets over it the lowliest of men" (Daniel 2:17). Whatever the outcome this Tuesday, Christians should wake up Wednesday morning knowing that God is still in charge, and it is well with our soul?

2016 HOMECOMING

The Lower Paw Paw church of Christ would like to invite you to their 2016 Homecoming, Sunday, November 20. For more information, please see the flyer on the bulletin board in the foyer.
